PPG Activity	Project to involve local pupils to determine what teenagers and young adults want from their doctors and how this can best be achieved.
Rationale for Activity – Why did you decide to do this?	It is relatively easy to gain opinions from those who regularly attend the practice. We were aware that we needed to be more inclusive.
Process – what methods did you use to reach people? How was it organised amongst the PPG members and practice staff?	Michael Hender (a member of the Patients Group Committee) contacted the Heads of two local Grammar Schools. The project is an attractive C.V. option for 6 th formers planning a career in medicine. Student working groups have been set up to focus on designing, testing and executing the survey and analysing and communicating the recommendations.
Outcome – how many patients were involved, were any changes made as a result?	In progress but likely to be 100+
